

TOPMAIL ARCHIVE

LEGALLY COMPLIANT AND REVISION-SAFE ARCHIVING OF E-MAILS

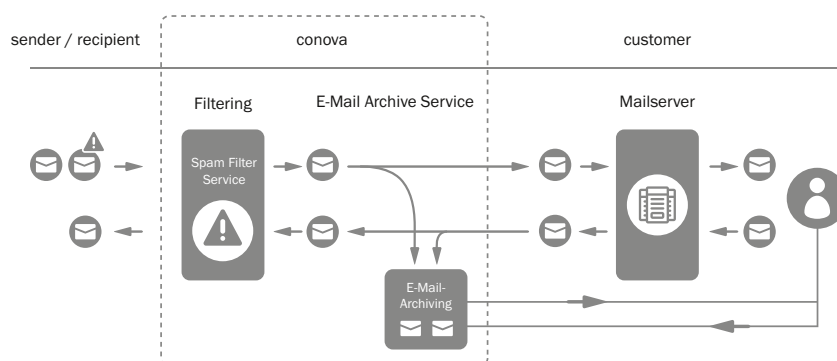

E-mail is the quickest and simplest method of communication these days. Offers, orders and contracts are sent electronically to the respective E-mail box as well as order confirmations and complaints. With conova's TopMail, you comply with all legal requirements. Your incoming and outgoing E-mails are stored long-term, centrally and securely. As a result, you have a complete backup of your mail data – without installing hardware or software.

Highlights at a glance

- 100 % archiving of all incoming and outgoing E-mail for up to 30 years
- Compliance with legal requirements
- Access via mobile app, Outlook plugin or web interface
- Identification of private E-mails possible
- Full-text index enables quickest search time
- Simple central management with 24/7 monitoring
- No costly investment in own infrastructure required
- Customer has no need to install hardware and software

Business E-mails often contain sensitive content that must not be lost – for legal reasons but also in order to access them again at a later date. Automatic and secure E-mail storage is essential for this. Business E-mails are subject to the same legal requirements as traditional letters. They must be stored and preserved for a certain period of time, and it must be ensured that audit access can be established at any time.
